Handprint flowers

You will need:

> Cardboard (you could use an old box if you don’t have a sheet handy)
> Textas, pencils or pens
> Scissors (check with an adult that it’s okay for you to use these)
> Glue or sticky tape
> Straws (or you could use icy pole sticks, twigs or more cardboard)
1. Trace around your hand using a texta, pen or pencil

2. Print off the leaf template or draw some of your own

3. Colour or paint your leaves

4. Cut out your bits and pieces (remember to ask a grown up if it’s okay to use scissors before you start)

5. Using glue or sticky tape, attach your handprint and leaves to the straw or icy pole stick

6. Make as many flowers as you want – you could even create a bunch of handprint flowers

7. Wrap with a bow or pop into a vase or jar and give them to someone special with a note or card
