1. PREFACE

1.1 Why focus on tourism and the visitor economy?

This Tourism and Visitor Economy Plan has been developed by using a 'Destination Management' approach. Destination management is a holistic process that ensures tourism adds value to the economy, social fabric and ecology of a community. Adopting this approach will ensure visitors' needs are planned and managed, while also meeting the needs and aspirations of the local communities and visitor economy operators and aligning with the context that is unique to each destination.

One of the key outcomes of holistic destination management is a strong and resilient tourism and visitor economy industry, complete with dynamic and adaptive product and experience offerings, that adapts to meet the needs of both the visitor and the community as the destination evolves. It is also critical to understand the visitor's complete journey in order to develop and implement a tourism plan that enhances the total visitor experience.

Growing the visitor economy is a great way to positively affect the economics of a region and for many parts of regional Australia, investment in the visitor economy is proving to be one of the most effective ways for local areas to be sustainable and to flourish<sup>1</sup>. Bringing new dollars into the local economy helps to improve the profitability of local businesses, support new start-ups and attract new major investment to the area. This in turn supports jobs and overall economic growth<sup>2</sup>. While the economic benefits of tourism are well established, the social benefits of the sector are at times overlooked. This is of particular interest to Mitchell Shire, with tourism able to play a role in enhancing our community's vibrancy, prosperity and liveability.

Supporting tourism entails embarking on a collective effort to bring about a strong and prosperous visitor economy – and so cannot be effectively driven by any single person or organisation. Put simply, it's not just a Council or local government's role to deliver an outstanding destination and experience; rather as the saying goes, tourism is everybody's business. Businesses and residents are also a critical part of a bigger picture and to grow Mitchell Shire's visitor economy, there is a role for everyone to play in delivering the best visitor experience possible.

2. INTRODUCTION

This Mitchell Shire Council Tourism and Visitor Economy Plan (2020 – 2024) provides a strategic overview for Mitchell Shire Council, together with its partners, local businesses and the community, to support, strengthen and grow the shire’s tourism and visitor economy. It sets out a multi-faceted framework, arranged within eight key focus areas, to support business growth in the sector, attract increased numbers of visitors, and to encourage quality investment and job creation.

2.1 Defining Tourism and the Visitor Economy

Traditional definitions of tourism tend to focus on the consumption activities of leisure tourists; people travelling for holidays and fun. More modern definitions have expanded the concept to include the ‘Visiting Friends and Relatives’ (VFR) market as well as people travelling for work, sports or study.

The term ‘visitor economy’ is a more accurate definition of the broader appeal and impact of the industry. It brings together the sectors offering direct visitor services like accommodation, transport, tour companies and attractions with intermediaries and indirectly benefiting sectors such as retail, food and beverage production, and construction. This recognises that visitor activity does not occur in isolation and that it contributes to investment and jobs across a range of industry sectors.

2.2 Local Context

Mitchell Shire is not typically considered a major regional Victoria tourist destination.

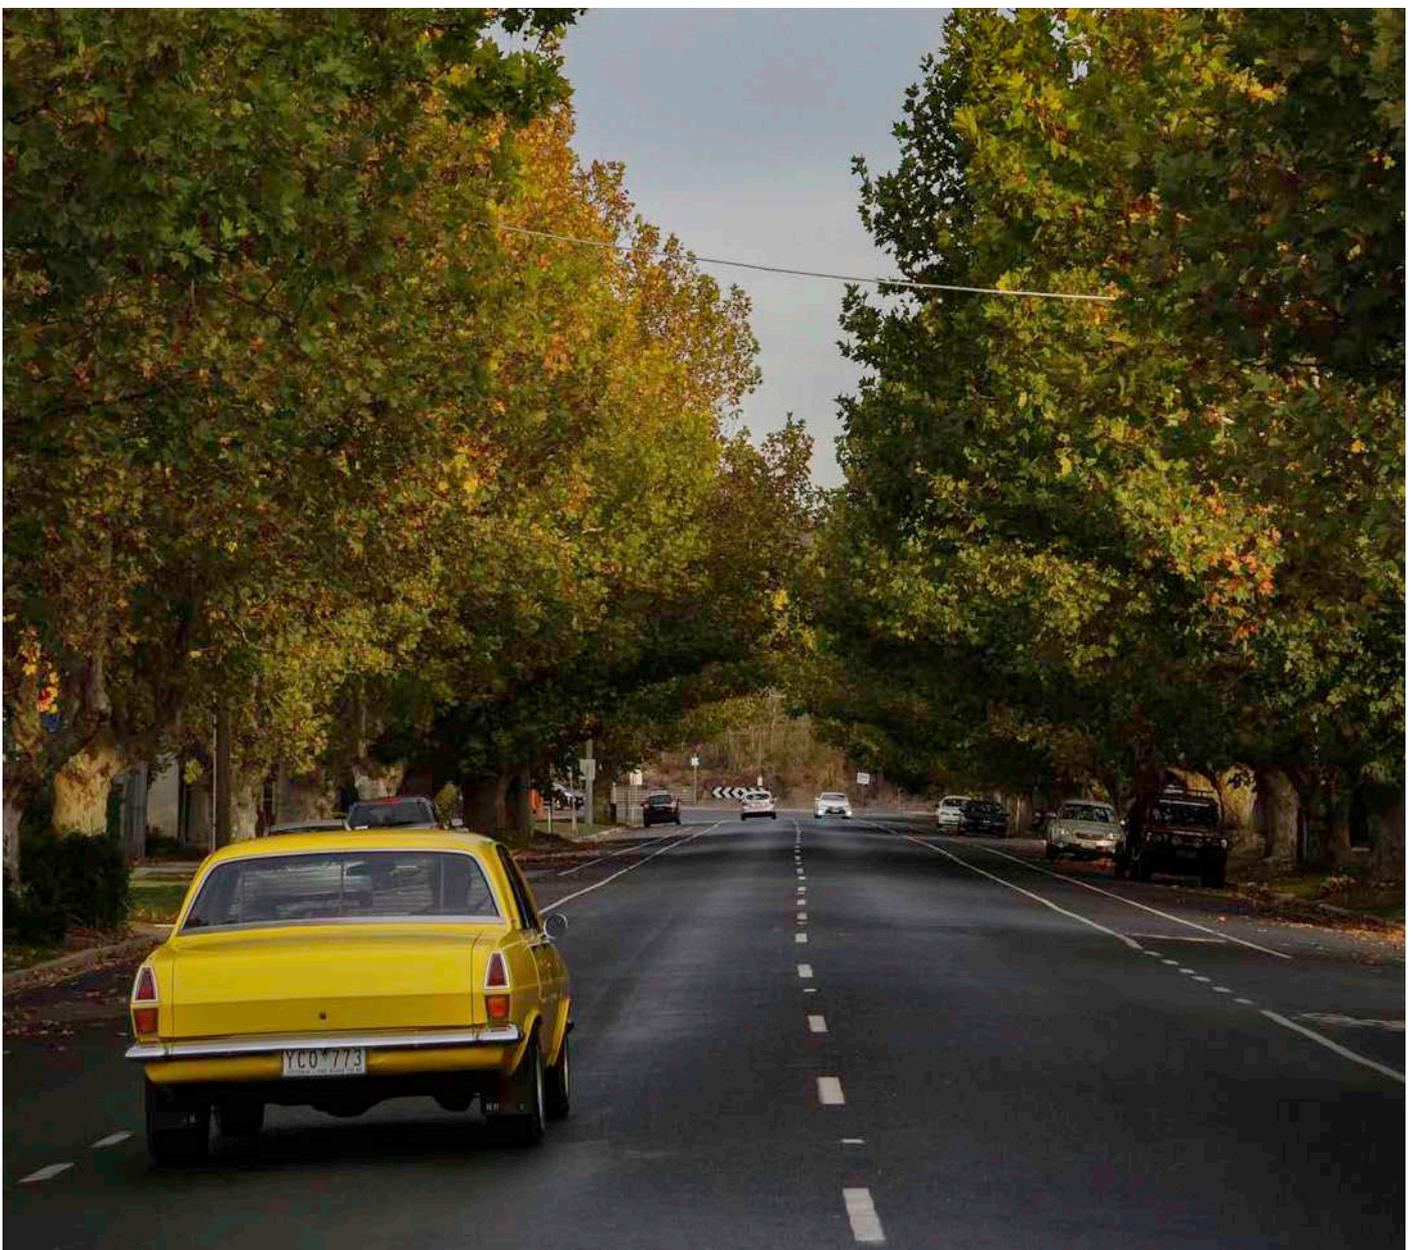

However, awareness of the shire is growing and it is emerging as a visitor destination. It is also gaining accolades for its food, beverage and fresh local produce, diverse landscapes, and authentic country lifestyle, amongst other things. These attributes are beginning to put Mitchell Shire and its towns on the map.

The Melbourne urban growth boundary extends into the south of the shire and, as of 2019, Mitchell Shire is the fastest growing municipality in Victoria. As such, Mitchell Shire now sits at the interface of metropolitan Melbourne and regional Victoria. Accordingly, the south of the shire increasingly relates to and forms part of greater Melbourne. Meanwhile the north of the shire continues to relate strongly to surrounding regional areas including north central Victoria, north east Victoria, and the Goulburn River Valley.

From a visitor perspective, the shire is most commonly known for its scenic beauty; characterised by rolling hills, picturesque bushland, rural plains and the beautiful Goulburn River. Mitchell's major towns and smaller unique settlements, lying mainly along the Hume Freeway and Northern Highway, are also well known to many visitors and have featured prominently over many years in the itineraries of road and rail travellers as they head north, out of Melbourne. Significant product and offerings in military and early settlement history, country lifestyles, family friendly attractions, events, and food and wine complete the picture.

3. PROJECT BACKGROUND

3.1 Context

In 2017/18, acknowledging the importance of tourism as an economic driver in the local economy, Council undertook baseline research on the visitor economy to inform the development of an updated Tourism and Visitor Economy Plan. In addition to the baseline research, an expert peer review panel was established to provide further input and guide the development of the Plan. The panel comprised Mr John Pandazopoulos (Chair of State Government's Visitor Economy Ministerial Advisory Committee), as well as representatives from Goulburn River Valley Tourism, the Victorian Tourism Industry Council, three local businesses – one from Seymour and two from Kilmore, and Mitchell Shire Council Officers.

It is acknowledged that this document was finalised at a time of uncertainty during the Covid-19 pandemic. The effect of the pandemic on the economy and specifically the visitor economy, is still being felt as this document goes to press, and the full extent of the damage to the visitor economy is yet to be fully understood. Consequently, this document has been reviewed to ensure that it is a fluid document that can support both the visitor economy sector and Council in adapting to the changing environment and impacts of this time.

3.2 Aim and Objective

The aims of the Tourism and Visitor Economy Plan are to:

- > Identify Mitchell Shire Council's strategic vision for tourism and the visitor economy
- > Identify and analyse the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats (SWOT) of/to the tourism and visitor economy in the shire
- > Identify Mitchell Shire's advantages in the tourism and visitor economy space relative to other destinations, focusing on the physical, natural and heritage assets of the shire and related future visitor attraction development opportunities arising from growth and development
- > Develop a set of strategies and actions to capitalise on the identified strengths and opportunities to grow the visitor economy and support existing and new businesses
- > Define the key components of Mitchell Shire's tourism brand in the marketplace, and
- > Identify and set out a four year strategically justified work plan comprised of projects and initiatives that will grow Mitchell Shire's tourism and visitor economy sector
- > The plan will be reviewed annually to support the changing dynamics of our tourism network and economy

Accordingly, the Tourism and Visitor Economy Plan provides a four-year plan for Mitchell Shire Council to strengthen the shire's tourism and visitor economy in conjunction with other public and private sector partners. It also provides stakeholders with an understanding of Mitchell Shire's positioning in the regional Victorian visitor economy and tourism market place, a focus for the collective efforts of all stakeholders on matters that are important to them, and a commitment from Mitchell Shire Council as to how the plan will be delivered.

3. PROJECT BACKGROUND

3.3 Strategic Context

The strength and potential future growth of the visitor economy is recognised in local, regional, state and national economic development strategies.

State Context

Visitors bring significant sums of money to Victoria and support jobs and investment. The visitor economy contributes around $24.8 billion to Victoria's Gross State Product each year and generates employment for 215,500 people<sup>3</sup>. In July 2016, the State Government launched the Victorian Visitor Economy Strategy. The Strategy provides a clear direction across the whole of government to increase visitor spending to $36.5 billion by 2025 and to reach 320,700 jobs. The Strategy sets the direction and framework for the state and can only be achieved through collaboration and engagement at all levels of government and industry.

As this Plan was being finalised, the State Government has responded to the current challenges of 2020 by developing a draft Visitor Economy Recovery and Reform Strategy. The Strategy seeks to support Victorian's regional visitor economy sector as it recovers from the 2019/20 bushfires and the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. The key focus areas within this plan align strongly with the focuses identified in the draft Visitor Economy Recovery and Reform Strategy.

Regional Context

From 2009 to 2019, Mitchell Shire Council together with three other Councils to its north and east, formed and participated in an unofficial regional tourism board known as Goulburn River Valley Tourism (GRVT). In 2019 the participating shires decided not to renew the Memorandum of Understanding and GRVT ceased operating.

Beginning in 2019, the State Government commenced a Regional Tourism Review. Mitchell Shire actively engaged with the Regional Tourism Review, advocating for the outcomes that most strongly support high quality growth and investment in the tourism and the visitor economy of Mitchell Shire. Whatever the result of the Review, this Plan has been designed to set up Mitchell Shire to have a clear understanding of our strengths, weaknesses and the opportunities that exist and to actively and constructively participate in whatever regional tourism structures emerge.

Local Context

Mitchell Shire Council recognises the importance of economic development and is committed to creating conditions for jobs and business growth now and into the future. The Mitchell Shire Council Plan 2017-2021 formalises the shire's commitment to economic development and tourism, specifically through Strategic Objective Five: Supporting Local Jobs and Quality Investment and two key sub-strategies: '5.5: Support the development and enhancement of local tourist attractions' and to '5.6: Promote our regions and towns as destination for tourists and visitors.'

Further to the Council Plan, the Mitchell Shire Council Economic Development Strategy 2016-2021 identifies tourism and visitor related actions and opportunities, these outline the way in which the shire will support business growth, investment and jobs in the shire.

4. MITCHELL SHIRE'S VISITOR ECONOMY

Mitchell Shire is in central Victoria and where the Traditional Custodians of the land are the Taungurung and Wurundjeri People. Most of the shire is less than an hour's travel time from Melbourne and is easily accessible via train or via the Hume Freeway and the linked network of highways and rural roads.

Seymour is considered one of the most recognisable visitor destinations within the shire. As a key regional centre Seymour provides a mix of military and railway history along with burgeoning local cellar doors and boutique cafes. Smaller towns such as Tallarook, Tooborac and Trawool in the northern end of the shire provide unique and authentic experiences. A further highlight of the north of the shire is the many natural wonders of the area such as the Goulburn River and the granite landscapes around Pyalong and Tooborac. One of the jewels in the region, The Great Victorian Rail Trail, begins at Tallarook and runs parallel to the Goulburn River and skirts the north of the Tallarook State Forest, taking in some of the most majestic scenery found anywhere in Victoria. The Great Victorian Rail Trail highlights emerging opportunities for nature-based products and experiences, with the surrounding ranges and rolling hills being ideal for activities such as camping, mountain biking and hiking.

The central and southern areas of the shire encompass historic towns such as Broadford, Kilmore, Beveridge and Wallan. Easily accessible from Melbourne and its growing northern suburbs, these towns appeal primarily to the day tripper market and provide alternatives to the hustle and bustle of city life. Their future growth will also provide significant potential to create new visitor economy attractions, such as sporting facilities and regional parks, family-friendly attractions, and additional food and beverage offerings. The heritage, history and authenticity of these towns, along with sports and event facilities particularly in Kilmore and Broadford and surrounds are the bones upon which future growth and development could occur in the visitor industry.

4.1 Economic Output and Jobs

The visitor economy in Mitchell Shire generates output of $115 million and supports 638 jobs, providing employment for nearly 6% of those working in Mitchell Shire. This is the seventh most significant sector in terms of employment within Mitchell. There are approximately 200 businesses within the shire servicing the visitor economy. Many of these are food and beverage businesses which predominantly service locally based customers but which also serve visitors.

4.2 Visitor Numbers

At the time of research, Mitchell Shire was attracting around 550,000 visitors per year. Table 1.0 shows a comparison of visitor numbers with other Victorian regions. This demonstrates that, Mitchell Shire's visitation numbers is low in comparison to other regions.

However more recently available data for Mitchell Shire has shown significant growth in certain markets over the past few years, in particular the domestic day trip market – which in the 12 months ending June 2019, had risen to over 750,000 visitors.

Table 1.0 – Visitor Numbers by Region

REGION	VISITOR NUMBERS – PER ANNUM
Mitchell Shire	550,000
Murrindindi	989,000
Shepparton	1.2M
Daylesford/Macedon Ranges	3.87M
Yarra Valley	5.3M
Moorabool	355,000
Casey and Cardinia	1.67M
Grampians	2.3M

4.3 Purpose of Visit

Figure 2.0 sets out the split between domestic day trippers, domestic overnight visitors and international visitors (0.6%) to Mitchell Shire; along with a breakdown of the purpose of their visit.

Domestic Daytrip

76.9% of Visitors

Purpose of Trip

- > 47% Visiting friends and relatives
- > 14% Holiday and leisure
- > 7% Sport
- > 6% Shopping
- > 6% Business

Domestic Overnight

22.5% of Visitors

Purpose of Trip

- > 50% Visiting friends and relatives
- > 20% Holiday and leisure
- > 15% Business
- > 3% Events, sports and festivals

International

0.6% of Visitors

Purpose of Trip

- > 37% Visiting friends and relatives
- > 34% Holiday and leisure
- > 9% Business
- > 5% Education

Figure 2.0 demonstrates that the key driver for the region is the Visiting Friends and Relatives (VFR) market. VFR markets have also been identified as the leading purpose of visit for visitors to key destination clusters such as Seymour and Surrounds and Kilmore/Wallan (42% and 52% respectively), reinforcing the strong VFR market already visiting the shire<sup>6</sup>. The VFR market should be seen as a significant opportunity by which operators can increase trip length, increase visitor spend; and thereby increase ‘yield’ (i.e. the value of a visitor’s spend per visit).

4.4 Visitor Expenditure

Visitor expenditure in the shire was approximately $113.4 million annually comprising $36.5 million in day trips, $62.6 million domestic overnights and $14.3 million international expenditure. Despite the smaller number of domestic overnight visitors compared to domestic day trip visitors, over 50% of visitor expenditure comes from the domestic overnight market<sup>7</sup>. This demonstrates the significant yield benefit and opportunity of attracting visitors to stay overnight.

Petrol was the number one item expenditure item for day trippers to Mitchell Shire, followed by takeaways and restaurant meals. Converting a portion of day trippers into overnight visitors would result in an increasing spend on local accommodation and takeaway, café and restaurant meals, increasing the benefits to the local economy and supporting jobs.

4.5 Key Visitor Markets

The number one market for Mitchell Shire is the Melbourne market, with 99% of all-day trippers to Mitchell Shire coming from Melbourne. Most domestic overnight visitors are from Victoria (76%) and of those, a large proportion are from Melbourne (62% compared with 32% from Regional Victoria). When benchmarked against other regions including the High Country and Great Ocean Road, the Goulburn River Valley (GRV) region attracts a greater proportion of day trippers from Melbourne. Several visitor markets exist for the shire – a general summary of Mitchell's current markets is provided in Table 2.0.

Current Key Markets	Comments and Observations
Melbourne	Strongest market – in both domestic day trip and domestic overnight visitors.
Visiting Friends and Relatives (VFR)	High number of VFR visitors already visiting the shire. Continued strong growth expected due to population and migration growth; and opportunities to increase yield from this market segment.
Locals/new residents	Locals exploring their own backyards and staying within the shire for leisure purposes. Significant future opportunities due to rapid population growth and new residents moving into the shire. People living at Puckapunyal (both semi-permanently and temporarily resident trainees) present a similar opportunity.
Surrounding towns/regions (within the hour)	Outlying towns and surroundings areas see region as a place to visit particularly for day trips.
Families	Future growth opportunity. Currently, a significantly lower proportion of visitors travelling as a family group – parents and children (15%) than both GRV (22%) and regional Victoria (23%).
Couples	Mostly from Melbourne, empty nesters or young professionals in particular visiting wineries, markets, and nature-based attractions.

Statistical data suggests there are a small number of interstate and international visitors to the shire, over a third of which are visiting friends and relatives. This is further supported by anecdotal evidence provided at the coal face by local operators.

5. TOWN SUMMARIES

The following summaries provide an overview of each town, its current status within the visitor economy and the key opportunities that exist.

5.1 Beveridge

- > The most southernly town of the shire and part of the Northern Growth Corridor
- > During the lifespan of this Plan, forecasted to overtake Broadford and Seymour in population
- > Along with growth in Wallan, population growth in Beveridge will provide a major opportunity for the VFR market

Beveridge is known for the birthplace of Ned Kelly and the family home still stands in the township. While in its current format it has limited visitor appeal and marketability, works in 2020 by Heritage Victoria have safeguarded the house for future generations and now provide an opportunity to draw visitors to the area.

The already established Ned Kelly Touring Route further north provides an opportunity to put Beveridge on the map. Further investigation into how to best leverage this heritage asset, in partnership with Heritage Victoria to attract visitation to the town is required.

The historically significant Hunters Tryst, built in 1845, still operates as a pub today and certainly provides an insight into the days gone by. By contrast, the more recently established Club Mandalay is popular with locals and has benefitted from extensive promotion in the Melbourne marketplace. The golf course and its restaurant are open to visitors and represent an opportunity that is heavily geared towards the Melbourne golf player and local VFR markets.

5.2 Broadford

- > An easy 65-minute drive via the Hume Freeway or train trip from Melbourne CBD
- > Holds one of the key visitor attractions of Mitchell Shire, the Broadford State Motorcycle Sports Complex (SMSC). The SMSC currently holds several events every year and participant and spectator numbers have increased year-on-year for the past five years
- > Home to some nature-based assets such as Mt Piper

There is an opportunity for Broadford to further leverage the SMSC. Council's adopted 2016 Economic Development Strategy identified the importance of leveraging economic benefits from the SMSC and Council has worked with Motorcycling Victoria, the SMSC's owner, to examine the feasibility of expanding its offering. It is important that opportunities to attract visitors to the SMSC into the town are fully exploited. Increasing awareness of, and visitation to, events held at the SMSC and engaging with both residents and businesses in Broadford would help better support future growth of this asset and bring increased economic benefits to Broadford.

In recent years there have been several new cafes open in the town such as Flavour Gourmet Foods and with the addition of a local brewery at the Broadford Hotel the town is attracting more people to stop and spend time and money locally. However, there is a need for broader and more diverse accommodation, dining and support services to encourage overnight stays, support larger events and to attract a diversified market.

5. TOWN SUMMARIES

5.3 Kilmore

- > Currently the second largest town in Mitchell Shire and planned to grow to some 25,000 residents
- > The town has strong history and heritage assets, although many are underutilised for tourist purposes
- > The main street, Sydney Street, is full of historical and architectural delights and the Kilmore Town Centre Plan, adopted by Council in 2016, sets out a plan to revitalise the town centre, including its streetscapes and the relationship with Kilmore Creek. Recently secured State and Federal Government funding will see over $3.3 million invested in Sydney Street's streetscape
- > Kilmore's proximity to Melbourne naturally lends itself to day trippers and the VFR market. There is an opportunity to attract a more diverse and younger demographic including those who may have never visited the region before and visitors from surrounding regions. Kilmore can also leverage off new residents moving into the shire, and especially Beveridge and Wallan, to make Kilmore their first destination beyond the edge of Melbourne

The town would benefit from an improved and increased number of quality boutique food and dining options to cater for and attract day-trippers and weekend visitors. An increase and improvement in accommodation offerings to meet ever-demanding visitor needs and to cater for VFR and event visitation should be encouraged. Targeted investment to attract new operators and work with existing operators to provide improved service delivery would benefit the town and enhance its visitor appeal.

There is an opportunity for further enhancement of Kilmore Racecourse to improve the scale of events that the venue can support. Other local events should also be supported. Supplementary attractions, such as Kilmore East's 'The Meat Room', are present but currently lacking in number. More such attractions would help keep visitors here longer and increase their spend.

Capitalising and enhancing natural and historical assets, such as Monument Hill and the Hume and Hovel monument, also provide an opportunity to enhance the visitor experience in Kilmore. The Kilmore Art Walk tells the history of Kilmore through a series of interpretive panels and art installations along the Kilmore Creek. The potential to build on this and develop further materials to market this as a visitor attraction and a visitor trail through Kilmore, will strengthen this historic town's visitor appeal.

5.4 Pyalong

- > A small town located in the north west of the shire
- > Despite its relatively small size, it is the largest settlement between Kilmore and Heathcote

Pyalong has an inviting and welcoming sign to the town; however, the town is not currently a visitor destination for most and the alignment of the Northern Highway bypassing the village centre means that the town is too easily passed by most travellers. The local pub and the scenery and historic trestle bridges are notable for the town. Pyalong provides opportunities to be considered as part of a regional trail or scenic drive.

5. TOWN SUMMARIES

5.5 Seymour

- > One of the shire's major towns and a regional hub for the many outlying areas
- > Well serviced for residents and visitors providing good retail, food, wine and accommodation
- > Easily accessible via car or train and is often seen as a meeting point or stopping point for travellers through the region, particularly those going to and from the Spirit of Tasmania
- > Attracts a diverse range of visitors from grey nomads, military history buffs traditional leisure tourists

Seymour is well positioned to build on its tourism foundation with key visitor attractions such as the Goulburn River and the Vietnam Veterans Commemorative Walk, as well as established food and beverage attractions such as Wine X Sam, Blue Tongue Berries, The Winery Kitchen and the Brewers Table. Food and beverage experiences such as these help to drive yield and are a key visitor attractor for the region and should continue to be nurtured to support further visitor and revenue growth.

In meeting visitor expectations, Seymour needs to enhance its sense of place; both in the town centre and along the highly attractive but underutilised Goulburn River. Place making activities and strategic development opportunities have the potential to transform perceptions of Seymour and attract new tourism, accommodation and dining offerings. A key focus should be on developing a critical mass of quality cafes and dining options, along with high quality self-contained accommodation that can cater for the VFR and business markets. Better utilisation of unique home stay options listed on platforms such as accommodation and sharing websites (e.g. Airbnb, Stayz) can also support and accommodate this growing VFR market.

A key visitor appeal and attraction opportunity for Seymour is the Goulburn River; for both activation (events and activities) and investment. Currently the river is a wonderful natural attraction with walking tracks, picnic areas and fishing jetties. Further activating the river would increase visitor numbers, encourage longer stays, increase spending in the immediate and surrounding areas, and increase marketability of Seymour and the region. The Seymour Structure Plan identifies a number of opportunities to enhance the town's visitor appeal, including the need to investigate opportunities to restore the Old Goulburn River Bridge and to connect it to a wider future trail network; which could also further enhance the river experience for visitors.

The Seymour Visitor Information Centre, located within the town's Old Court House, is located at a key entry gateway (by road) to the town, between the Goulburn River and Vietnam Veterans Commemorative Walk. Previous studies support enhancing or developing a new visitor information centre, and there could be an opportunity to do so in conjunction with strategic efforts to improve the connection between the town and the river.

Annual events such as Tastes of the Goulburn, the Seymour Cup at the Seymour Racing Club, and the successful Seymour Alternative Farming Expo (which brings in over 20,000 people and injects over $6 million into the local economy) have the potential to support this product development. In addition, the Seymour Revitalisation Initiative is also likely to provide opportunities that can be leveraged to support tourism and the visitor economy.

RV and grey nomad travellers frequently drive through and stop at Seymour, the town must be RV friendly and capitalise on the opportunities this market brings.

Seymour also has a strong affiliation with military history, and this should be further explored and developed to create new and interactive visitor experiences cementing a real point of difference for the town. Redevelopment of a new and more easily accessible Tank Museum at Puckapunyal is of critical importance to cementing Seymour's role as an overnight stay military history destination.

Further to this, existing assets such as the Vietnam Veterans Commemorative Walk and the Australian Light Horse Memorial Park should be further supported by Council, where possible, to incorporate new experiences and broaden their appeal to a wider market. It must also leverage off Puckapunyal, including its residents and visitors to the site, which presents a further significant opportunity to increase visitor spending in the town and surrounding region.

The Seymour Railway Heritage Centre, run as a not-for-profit by volunteers as a railway preservation group heritage train tour operator, holds great potential to become a significant visitor drawcard for Seymour and the wider region. In its current format, the Heritage Centre does not have the capacity to receive visitors to its site or meet and service growing visitor expectations; however the opportunity exists to transition this attraction to a more visitor-facing and visitor-centric business model to capitalise on the growing tourism market.

Finally, as a main entry point to the town for rail day trippers, the railway station has the potential to provide a stronger welcome to the town with improved visitor services and the utilisation of the space for potential mixed-use or complementary services.

5. TOWN SUMMARIES

5.6 Tallarook

- > Tallarook is an idyllic town located on the Melbourne-Seymour rail line and at the start of the Great Victorian Rail Trail
- > Aesthetically pleasing, Tallarook presents as a strong opportunity to increase visitation and spend to the area – particularly high-yield visitors
- > Tallarook has been identified as a developing ‘boutique village’, with major potential to leverage off the Great Victorian Rail Trail, which connects it to Trawool and other destinations in Murrindindi and Mansfield Shires

Approximately an hour from Melbourne just off the Hume Freeway, along with being en-route to the ski-fields and with a dedicated train station, Tallarook is easily accessible and ideally located to attract many visitors from a range of markets. The monthly Tallarook Farmers’ Market attracts a strong loyal following and the Mechanics Institute Hall (rebuilt in 2020) houses the annual arts program. The town’s only pub, the Tallarook Hotel, has been renovated and reopened with a more gastropub style that is proving attractive to both locals and the Melbourne visitor market.

Without doubt the biggest attractor for the town is the Great Victorian Rail Trail, and Council works closely with Murrindindi and Mansfield Shires to manage and promote the trail. Connecting the trail to Seymour and developing complementary support services along the trail such as accommodation and dining and health and wellbeing are key opportunities to focus on. In addition, supporting and facilitating the opening of artisan boutique cafes, farm gates and/or provedores in the town that highlight local produce, would further enhance the town’s visitor appeal and enable it to better exploit opportunities to increase spend by both visitors to and travellers passing through the town and the surrounding area.

Consideration should also be given to the growing international and domestic markets seeking a farm stay/country experience; such as that on offer at the Seven Hills Country Retreat and Farmstay and other similar businesses in the area.

5.7 Tooborac

- > Located at the start of Heathcote Wine Region, surrounded by majestic granite country scenery
- > A unique small town that has strong local food and beverage producers
- > Local wineries such as Merindoc and McIvor Estate are complemented by local favourites the Tooborac General Store, Tooborac Hotel (Brewery and Pie Shop), McIvor Fine Foods, as well as several boutique bed and breakfast accommodation providers

Tooborac has significant opportunity to increase visitation from a range of markets, most notably the Melbourne market. It already has strong links and connections to the Heathcote Wine Growers Association and Bendigo Tourism so Mitchell Shire would benefit from investing and connecting with these existing linkages to capitalise on the brand strength and recognition that already exists in the marketplace. These links would be strengthened by completion of the Heathcote to Tooborac section of the Wallan to Heathcote Rail Trail.

Operators are already working collaboratively and would further benefit from targeted marketing and support to further develop visitor-based initiatives. Opportunities exist to run theme-based events, markets, pop-ups and to leverage off the quality farm gate style attractors in the area. It is important that the focus is on increasing length of stay and converting day trippers to overnight stays. To do this effectively, additional boutique or niche accommodation options will be required, along with stronger promotion of connected 'tours' and 'trails' such as winery, food and cycling both within and throughout the region.

5.8 Trawool

- > A small picturesque locality just outside Seymour, Trawool is largely known for agriculture and unforgettable scenery
- > The Trawool Valley has a heritage listed Scenic Classification by the National Trust, recognising its importance as a scenic and geological site
- > Home to a great diversity of flora and fauna Trawool is largely an untapped visitor destination; the area is popular for outdoor activities such as bushwalking, fishing and sight-seeing

Its picturesque location right on the Great Victorian Rail Trail provides yet another opportunity to create value adds such as food and accommodation along the trail attracting high-yielding markets.

Opportunities exist to leverage off the recent renovation of the Trawool Estate, and supporting activities that take advantage of the location. The area would benefit from increased marketing and online promotion of the picturesque drives and scenic locations such as Horseshoe Lagoon.

5.9 Wallan

- > Wallan is situated at the tip of the metropolitan Northern Growth Corridor and a huge population growth is anticipated in the coming years, turning the once urban fringe town into an urban hub
- > Wallan will see an influx of new homeowners, diverse cultures and new immigrant population providing a significant opportunity to capture a VFR market
- > Wallan's recreational spaces and assets provide opportunities to enhance its visitor appeal

Wallan is geared towards providing facilities and infrastructure to support its new residents. It has a solid retail base, food offerings and recreational assets such as the Community Bank® Adventure Playground and Splash Park in Hadfield Park, Green Hill Reserve and Hidden Valley Estate and Golf Course. The golf course and its associated facilities including accommodation provides opportunity to attract the Melbourne golf market around the concept of stay and play packages.

Wallan is also home to the Wallan Olde Time Market, the largest monthly event in the shire and one which attracts many visitors to Wallan. Opportunities exist to further leverage and capture the Melbourne and VFR market to experience the events and recreational spaces provided in Wallan. In addition, there is a significant opportunity to encourage 'new residents' to discover their own backyard, stay local and explore the shire they live in.

Other than these assets, traditional tourism product and visitor services are limited but there are likely to be further opportunities to develop leisure and entertainment product. There is also an ongoing need to plan for the future development of the area's natural attractions, such as the area's hilltops and a future Wallan Regional Park and wetlands, along the Merri Creek and around the nationally significant Hernes Swamp, which has potential to become significant visitor attraction.

A future Wallan Regional Park would also sit at the southern end of the proposed Wallan to Heathcote Rail Trail, and as such it would enable a connection between the Merri Creek cycling trails further south in Melbourne and the Wallan to Heathcote and Bendigo rail trails; thus creating a off-road walking and cycling link all the way from inner Melbourne to Bendigo; with obvious visitor appeal.

5. TOWN SUMMARIES

5.10 Wandong and Heathcote Junction

- > The neighbouring tranquil townships of Heathcote Junction and Wandong are just beyond Melbourne's extended urban growth boundary however as surrounded by small farms these townships are set to retain their country charm
- > Easily accessible via car or train from Melbourne; offering visitors nature and a quieter feel
- > The townships are a key gateway to Mt Disappointment and Kinglake National Park and often act as a meeting point for those pursuing nature-based activities in the area

While predominantly servicing the hunting, shooting, motorcycling and 4WD market, opportunities exist to further develop and service these and other nature-based activities such as walking, cycling, hiking, horse riding and mountain biking – appealing to a broader demographic keen to explore the area. The Wallan to Heathcote Rail Trail, which is based on the original rail line reservation from Heathcote Junction, also presents a further opportunity to appeal to such activities and to link into other trail networks including the Say G'day Trail.

7. VISITOR BRAND

In relation to tourism and the visitor economy, a brand is a visitor's perception of the destination, experience and service.

To date Mitchell Shire has lacked a cohesive visitor brand and has had only a limited profile within the wider Victorian visitor economy. Employing a consistent narrative and approach to promotion that showcases its tourism strengths and personality will strengthen the awareness and attractiveness of the shire as a visitor destination. It will also build a distinctive visitor brand for the shire and its towns within the Victorian visitor economy. The challenge, but also opportunity for Mitchell Shire, is to create a brand proposition that differentiates the shire and its towns from the surrounding regions.

In articulating the visitor brand for Mitchell Shire, the DNA of the area has been considered; its history, people, culture, geography, climate, and economy. Consistent themes and attributes have emerged, such as fresh air and unspoilt countryside, heritage, military, railways, local produce, wineries, trail sports, equine, the river and the natural environment.

The brand or collection of sub-brands should resonate with visitors' experiences of the current visitor product and services on offer and must not limit the brand in the future as new tourism products and services are developed.

The below 'brand proposition pyramid' is the result of detailed research that has been carried out to inform this plan and resulting strengths and opportunities analysis. The pyramid identifies the attributes that best speak to the qualities that Mitchell Shire presents to visitors and which should be continually promoted, supported, reinforced and invested in. These qualities and attributes should also form the basis for consistent messaging in all promotion and marketing efforts and associated collateral.

7. VISITOR BRAND

Our core brand promise

A break from the city that will refresh the senses.

Our brand distinction

The brand and its components have been developed for the shire as a whole and they are intended to provide an overarching and consistent theme with which to promote the shire. However, it is recognised that Mitchell Shire is made up of different towns and communities, each with unique and differing strengths and attractions for the visitor market. Accordingly, it will be important throughout the life of this Plan to help individual towns further develop brands that can establish the unique values of each destination.

8. TARGET MARKETS

An opportunity exists for Mitchell Shire to capture the domestic, and primarily Melburnian market. With proximity to Melbourne, and an undiscovered feel, being strengths of the shire, the Melbourne market must be a core target market for Mitchell Shire, particularly to increase length of stay and yield.

The accessibility and growth of the southern end of the shire will naturally encourage visitation growth and drive strong growth in both the VFR and day tripper markets. Opportunities also exist to leverage off the back of the influx of new residents who are a mix of immigrants and new Melburnians who should be encouraged to explore their own backyard. Increasing market share of VFR is also a key consideration and will drive visitation to the shire well into the future.

Mitchell Shire is best advised to focus on those key markets and choose one or two segments and do them well, as it is very challenging in tourism to be all things to all people. Research and consultation identified several key target markets, and these are displayed in Figure 5.0.

Figure 5.0 highlights the ‘quick win’ target markets and suggests that focusing on the Melbourne market, day trippers and the VFR market will provide the best opportunities and return on investment for the shire to increase visitation, yield and length of stay. Defining the region’s key target audiences gives context and structure to product development and future marketing strategies.

9. VISION FOR 2024

Mitchell Shire is an emerging and increasingly well-known destination of choice for visitors seeking an authentic regional Victoria experience. Mitchell Shire has a growing tourism industry with new and expanded operations and increased capabilities to positively service visitors to the shire.

10. SUMMARY

As a growing visitor destination Mitchell Shire has a genuine opportunity to position itself as a destination of choice and capitalise on tourism and the visitor economy as a key economic driver and job creator.

The development of a sustainable tourism industry in the shire is unlikely to happen without a strategic, collaborative and coordinated approach to destination management.

A destination management approach anchors this Tourism and Visitor Plan and will provide a platform for managing and implementing the plan's actions across the shire. Such an approach integrates Mitchell Shire Council with key stakeholders, the community and both public and private sector partner organisations.

The Tourism and Visitor Economy Plan will lay the foundation and provide the overarching framework to guide future tourism development within the shire over the next four years. It is envisioned that this Plan will be implemented through Council in collaboration and with the support of the shire's tourism and visitor economy industry.

11. ACTION PLAN

This plan supports the vision and development of the shire to be competitive with more well-established tourism regions, however it also recognises that Mitchell Shire is still in its infancy as a major visitor destination and acknowledges that foundations must be established to reach that goal.

The research, consultation and analysis that has been undertaken to critically inform this plan has resulted in the identification of a series of actions to support and grow the visitor economy in Mitchell Shire. The actions and the objectives behind them align on a regional and state level and are all aimed at increasing visitation, spend and length of stay within the shire. These actions have been arranged under eight key focus areas or strategic themes which are set out in Figure 6.0 below. Several projects identified within the plan feature in two or more focus areas; reflecting the interconnections between the focus areas that is required to establish a competitive and vibrant tourism region.
